

To the Patrons of the Edgefield Advertiser.

In entering upon the duties of a public Journalist, the subscriber deems it necessary to make known his political principles. This he will do in as brief a manner as possible. He is of the strictest sect of the State Rights School of politics. On a strict construction of the Federal Compact, depends he believes, the value and the very existence of the Union. To promote this great object, he will labor faithfully, and with zeal untiring. He is opposed to a United States Bank, believing it to be unconstitutional, inexpedient, dangerous, and peculiarly oppressive to the South.

He is in favor of the Independent Constitutional Treasury scheme. He believes it to be the safest, the cheapest, and the most simple plan for collecting and disbursing the public revenue, which has yet been proposed.

His paper shall not be a mere political party sheet. Agriculture and general literature shall meet at his hands, a due share of attention. He will endeavor to make judicious selections for the farmer, and will cater for the delicate appetite of the lover of polite literature. In short, he will use every exertion to make his paper as miscellaneous, and as useful as possible. He will publish articles on all subjects of interest.

"From grave to gay, from lively to severe." During the season of business, he will publish every week, the prices current of Hamburg, and Augusta, and occasionally of Charleston and Columbia.

PIERRE FABIEU LABORDE.

Sale of Stock in the Bank of Hamburg.—We call the particular attention of the public, to the advertisement of H. Hutchison, Esq. Cashier of the Bank of Hamburg, giving an account of the sale of shares, which will take place on the 8th of March next.

BANK OF THE STATE.—Daniel C. Webb, Esq. has been elected, under the provision in the 10th section of the Act establishing the Bank, President of the Bank of the State of South Carolina.

Sheriffalty.—Gen. H. H. Kinard was elected, on the 14th and 15th ult. Sheriff for Newberry District.

James H. Cobb, Esq. is elected Sheriff for Abbeville District.

Fire in Augusta.—The Constitutionalists says, that a fire broke out, on the 25th ult. in a house situated in the lower part of the street. The building was destroyed together with the adjacent house, belonging to Mrs. Bacon. The house adjoining the latter, belonging to Mr. Bigon, was pulled down, after which the fire was arrested.

Abolition in N. Carolina.—The North Carolina Standard gives the following copy of an abolition petition, which Mr. Moreland, Senator from Guilford, attempted to present in the Senate, a few days before adjournment.

"Petition, from our yearly meeting of the Society of Friends, held at New Garden, Guilford, N. C., in the 11th month, 1838, to the ensuing General Assembly.

"We entreat you to legislate for the termination of Slavery in this State.

"Signed by direction of the meeting, by Nathan Mendenhall, Clerk."

Ohio.—Large majorities of both Houses of the Legislature, have passed resolutions against abolition.

Pennsylvania.—Governor Porter was sworn into office, on the 15th ult. in presence of both Houses of the Legislature. He delivered a long and able message, in which he took decided ground against the abolitionists. He said, emphatically, that their course was calculated to jeopard the Union, and should meet with no countenance at his hands.

Whig Convention in Alabama.—A Convention of the Whig party of Alabama, assembled in Tuscaloosa, on the 7th ult., at the Capitol in the Hall of the House of Representatives. Strong resolutions against the Sub-Treasury, were adopted.

General Banking in New York.—An exchange paper says, that the names of the New Banks which have started in New York, under the General Banking Law, fill nearly a column of one of the N. York papers.

Free Banking in Pennsylvania.—A bill has been presented to the Legislature of Pennsylvania, which, in some of its provisions, is similar to the General Banking Law of New York.

Alabama Legislature.—The preamble and resolutions, of Mr. Smith, on the currency, were passed on the 10th ult. by the Senate. Alabama has now shown her approbation of the sub-Treasury. The Alabama State Intelligencer says, that the bill establishing a Penitentiary, has been passed by both Houses of the Legislature.

At its late session, the General Assembly of North Carolina, passed about 100 Acts. It will be remembered, that the Georgia Legislature passed upwards of 200. Our Legislature passed but 26. Quere—Which Legislature has shown the most wisdom on this subject?

State of Michigan.—The Charleston Patriot says, that the Legislature of Michigan, assembled at Detroit, on the 7th ult. In the Senate, in which there is a Democratic majority of five members, Lieutenant Governor Mundy, took the Chair. In the House of Representatives, Kingley S. Bingham, Esq. was re-elected Speaker, by a majority of ten votes, the precise majority which that branch contains of Democratic members.

Illinois.—Resolutions against the sub-Treasury, have been passed in one branch of the Legislature of this State. The Whigs have claimed the Legislature, but, according to the Globe, the elections for different officers, show that they are in a minority. The Printer, the Auditor and Treasurer, and Attorney General, all Democrats, have been elected.

Maine.—The Hon. Ruel Williams is re-elected U. States Senator, from Maine, by a large majority.

One fact is worth a thousand theories.—We copy the following from the Norwich Aurora, "By the report of Mr. Woodbury, the Secretary of the Treasury, the government has lost, by bank failures and discounts, since 1814, $15,815,535, being more than half a million a year! We think the people will petition for a divorce from this class of Sub Treasuries."

Let the people mark it.—We have seen it stated, that Samuel Swartwout, the great defaulter, was either a Whig or Conservative. Either party is welcome to him.

Democratic and State Rights meeting in Princeton, N. Jersey.—At a meeting of the friends of the Administration of the General Government, recently held in Princeton, among other resolutions, the following were adopted.

"Resolved, That we will cordially co-operate in effecting the accomplishment of a direct trade, and hail the approach of that era when the commerce of the south will enrich our own ports instead of carrying prosperity to other cities, whose views and interests are not congenial to our own.

Resolved, That the attitude assumed by South Carolina in this contest for Southern rights is truly noble, verifying her high character for moral power, intelligence and disinterested patriotism."

Texas.—The Texian Congress had fixed on the 21st ult. for adjournment. A bill to suppress gambling, has been passed by both Houses, to a third reading. The Senate had passed a bill, chartering a National Bank, based exclusively upon the resources of the Government. This body had also passed a bill, appropriating $1,500,000 for the expenses of the government; also, a bill authorising the President to borrow $1,000,000 more.

Death of Judge Colcock.—Judge Colcock died in Charleston, on the 26th ult. The Charleston Courier says, "Judge Colcock was an eminently useful citizen, and bore an active and prominent part in public affairs, from early manhood, to the close of his life. He was distinguished in the Legislature of the State, and was many years ago, elected an Associate Justice of the Court of General Sessions and Common Pleas, and afterwards received a distinguished mark of the public confidence, in being elevated to a seat on the Bench of the Court of Appeals, when that tribunal consisted of but three members, exercising supreme judicial control, within the State, over the property, liberties, and lives of their fellow citizens. About nine years since, impaired health requiring that he should seek a less sedentary occupation, he resigned his seat on the Supreme Bench of the State, and received from the Legislature, another token of public favor in his election to the Presidency of the Bank of the State, which office he held to the time of his death. After his election to the presidency of the Bank, he became a permanent resident of this place, and exerted an active influence in all the leading and great enterprises, which have signalized the recent history of our city. Until within two years of his decease, he filled with dignity and ability, the honorary office of President of the Trustees of the Medical College of the State of S. C. and the numerous graduates of that flourishing institution, and our citizens generally will long remember the parental character and high moral tone of his impressive Commencement Addresses. As a Judge he was distinguished for learning, ability and steadiness of judgment, preferring an adherence to settled principles, to a resort to innovation and experiment, and the dangerous pathway of bench legislation. In matters of finance, his experience commenced too late and was not of sufficient duration to procure him eminence, but his high character and correct conduct secured him the confidence of the legislature, as a faithful and careful guardian of the public treasure. As a man, and public officer his integrity was spotless, and he added genuine religion and fervent piety to the other virtues of his private character. A community, which knew his value, now mourns his loss, and will honor his memory.

Funeral of Judge Colcock.—The mortal remains of this eminent citizen were committed to the grave, yesterday afternoon. In compliance with his own wish and directions, there was none of the pomp and parade usually incident to the obsequies of the dead. His family, friends and fellow-citizens, desirous of paying the last tribute of affection and respect, assembled at St. Peter's Church, whither his body had been conveyed without ceremony, and attended the impressive burial service of the Episcopal Church, performed by the Rev. Mr. Barnwell, partly in the Church, and partly at the grave of the deceased. Thus has this distinguished citizen, after a long life of honor, usefulness and virtue, even in his burial, set an example, pregnant with moral teachings, and practical good to the living. We trust that a practice, thus commenced will be henceforth universally honored in the observance.—Charleston Courier, Jan. 29.

Miscellaneous.

Edgefield Hussars.—We extract the following complimentary notice of this troop, from the Charleston Courier.

HAMBURG, (S. C.) Jan. 26.
Messrs. Editors.—I have just returned from viewing a parade, or muster, as they call it, of the Edgefield Hussars, under the able command, Capt. Nathan L. Griffin, and as a short description of what I have witnessed, may not be entirely uninteresting to some of your numerous readers, I would ask the favor, if the limits of your columns permit it, to insert the same.

The Hussars, to the number of from 40 to 45, many being absent, and composed of as fine a body of young men as I ever beheld, well mounted, formed about 12 o'clock, M. and proceeded, by particular invitation of the patriotic Mr. Henry Shultz, the founder of their town, to his extensive and picturesque grounds on the Heights, about a mile distant, from which there is a fine and extensive view, as well of this place as of Augusta and the surrounding country for many miles. The approach of the Company, was announced by the frequent discharge of a brass field piece, stationed behind the breast-work, which surrounds the entire front of the Heights. When they arrived, they formed in the rear of Mr. Shultz's mansion, and went through several evolutions in a style equal to regulars. After which, the Company entered the enclosure, and dismounting, marched to the martial music of Mr. Shultz's private full band, to a point where that gentleman had taken his station, and, after a short address from Mr. S., which was answered by Capt. Griffin; the Corps were invited to partake of a sumptuous collation prepared for the occasion, in which they were joined by many of the spectators, the band playing all the time, which added much to the effect of the scene.

This over, the Company remounted, and, under a discharge of cannon, took up the line of march for this place. Here, about 4 o'clock, they sat down, with many invited guests, to a dinner prepared by Mr. Mayson, the indefatigable and courteous proprietor of the American Hotel. The fare was according to his usual style, of the best that the season could afford, and the wines of the first quality. Mr. Shultz's band also attended, and after many patriotic and sentimental toasts had been given and drunk, the Company retired at an early hour, without any accident having happened to mar the pleasures of the day.

A CHARLESTONIAN.
Col. Memminger.—This gentleman, who was sent by the State of South Carolina, to Kentucky, to present the claims of the South Western Rail Road, and the Bank, before the Legislature, has met with the most flattering reception. He has won golden opinions from the opponents, as well as the friends of the great Rail Road. We extract the following,

From the Correspondent of the Observer and Rep.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 1839.
To-day the Senate and lower House met in the Hall of the House of Representatives to hear Col. Memminger, (the Commissioner from S. C.) upon the subject of the Rail Road Bank. By 11 o'clock the Hall presented a most animated and imposing appearance. The Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the House were seated side by side; the grave Senators were mingled with the more youthful members of the Lower Branch; the Governor of the Commonwealth was provided with a conspicuous station; lobbies and galleries were thronged with anxious and attentive listeners, and the floor of the chamber was more than half occupied by the gaily-decked and bright-eyed daughters of the land. The Farmers, especially from almost every county in the stock growing region, had flocked to Frankfort to hear the debates, and await the issue of the great question, and thereby evidenced the deep and abiding interest which the whole Agricultural interest of the State feels in the completion of the Charleston Rail Road, and the uniformity of currency and reduction of Exchange to be effected by means of the contemplated Bank.

Col. Memminger commenced at 11 o'clock, and spoke about three hours, with a fluency and elegance of language, an array of facts and arguments, a force and beauty of illustration, a grace and ease of manner, and a splendid strain of noble sentiments and impassioned eloquence, which has never been surpassed in that Hall.

Col. M. is apparently about 40 years of age. From the humblest birth, and under the most untoward circumstances, he has risen to the very front rank of the Carolina Bar. He has for several years represented in part the City of Charleston in the State Legislature; and during the political struggles which convulsed his native state, was a prominent leader of the Union party. He is about middle height, with a most affable manner and gentlemanly carriage, a countenance indicative of a most penetrating mind and expanded views. During the whole time that he spoke, his finely modulated voice never failed for a moment, and there was such a regular train in his argument, and such an orderly disposition of all the parts of his discourse, that he enchaind the attention, and left a deep impression on the minds of his hearers.

The Legislature of the Territory of Florida met on the 12th ult. The Senate not having a quorum present, adjourned till the 13th.

Gov. Duval was elected President, resigned, and Col. Warren was elected. J. H. Robinson was elected chief clerk, and J. Mosher, — McBride, and J. H. Archer, engrossing clerks.

In the House, on the 13th, Judge Drake, of Pensacola, was elected Speaker. J. B. Lancaster, chief clerk, and R. B. Copeland, N. McPherson, and C. Harris, engrossing clerks.
